FROM RUSSELL'S DESKTOP

Welcome to our second newsletter for the year. Business is busy and we have recently added a new staff member, in the person of Joel Hicks, who is Business Development Manager for Creaform Products Pipecheck 3D Laser Corrosion Scanning System. Joel is a local who has returned with his young family after being based in Dubai for the last 10 years. Joel has a degree in Civil Engineering. His experience in Pipelines, Refineries, Construction and more bring a good deal of skills to RFS. It was interesting to walk past his desk recently and hear him conversing with one of our customers in fluent Arabic.

We are just about settled in our new larger facility now and all the staff enjoy the space and efficiency that it brings. Our new display room is finished and is a great place to showcase and demonstrate products.

Earlier this year we were able to host an ACFM training course in our dedicated training room and are about to run another shortly. In March we had the NSW AINDT branch meeting here with some speakers from overseas who had been at the iWIN 2013 conference and exhibition with us. Joe Buckley from Sonatest spoke on some Novel Aspects of Phased Array Inspection while Marc Jansen of Balteau spoke on Radiographic Applications and a Trailer Mounted Exposure Bay.

It is great news that the Bruker S1 Titan PMI unit is now approved for Queensland use after a long drawn out process. There is lots of information for you to check out in this newsletter and I hope you enjoy it.

Regards

Russell
